

[Memo, ca. Summer 1942]

Woody Guthrie offered us these two books in return for copies, and Dr. Spivacke agreed to the idea, so I wrote and told him, but he never answered. Alan says that at the time Woody was slightly annoyed with him about something, and that might have been the reason. I guess we could write him again.

J.

Attached to Woody's 6/7/42 letter.